Repeated disappointment almost always triggers a series of other reactions: discouragement, anger, frustration, bitterness, resentment, even depression. Unless we learn to deal with disappointment, it will rob us of joy and poison our souls. Learn from your disappointments and failures and with God's help seek to overcome them. Ask yourself, could I have done anything to prevent this? Were my hopes and dreams unrealistic, or were my motives wrong?

- The long awaited and much debated Government Budget that will take place this week that it will be fair and dispel the many concerns and rumours of the electorate, particularly regarding how the cost of living during the forthcoming winter period will impact on their finances and standard of living in their everyday lives, particularly during the autumn and winter period.
- An end to the tit-for-tat bombing raids between Russia and Ukraine which is resulting in so much loss of life, injury and destruction of infrastructure in both countries.
